agnostic data model using common language and business rules to support all types of requirement reporting, as directed in reference (b).

The PRDS Configuration Control Board, comprising representation from the military services and DoD agencies and co-chaired by representatives from Defense Procurement and Acquisition Policy's Program Development and Implementation office and Office of the Secretary of Defense (Comptroller)'s Business Integration Office, approved PRDS Version 2.0
for publication on March 22, 2016.

PRDS Version 2.0 provides the following enhancements from Version 1.1:
- Added data to allow for intragovernmental orders outside DoD including seller-side data
- Added capability to handle:

       - Construction
       - Telecommunications
- Other minor enhancements

The PRDS and supporting documents can be viewed on the Defense Procurement and Acquisition Policy website at http://www.acq.osd.mil/dpap/pdi/eb/. Components should apply the PRDS in their business processes as required by DFARS 211.7001(e) (reference (c)).
