

Department of Defense Intellectual Property Forum 2023

Dr. Bryson Reynolds

Associate Director for Small Business Risk, DoD Office of Small Business Programs

Dr. Bryson Reynolds is the Associate Director for Small Business Risk in the Department of Defense's Office of Small Business Programs (OSBP). Dr. Reynolds oversees efforts to address foreign, ownership, control, and influence (FOCI) risk to small businesses in the defense industrial base, and to expand market intelligence tools through the Market Research Center of Excellence (MRCOE). Prior to joining DoD OSBP, Dr. Reynolds worked in neuroscience research at the University of Virginia and Vanderbilt University and in STEM education at the Vanderbilt Center for Science Outreach.