PALT

PALT Tool – Procurement Administrative Lead Time (PALT) is the number of total days from the time of requirement identification to the time of contract award. The PALT Tracker is a web-based tool that will be used by contracting offices to track the major milestones leading up to these awards. This tool allows users to enter the estimated and actual dates of the pre-award process to include PALT milestones.

PROTEST

Protest Tracker – The Protest Tracker Tool studies the frequency and effects of bid protests. The tool tracks the number of protests filed with Government Accountability Office and the U.S. Court of Federal Claims. The tool will only track protests against Department of Defense contracts, and will track the few hundred protest requests issued each year.

The screenshot shows the PARROT system interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'PARROT', 'PALT', and 'PROTEST'. Below that, a search bar shows 'Show Protests By DODAAC: My DODAACs'. A table lists several protests with columns for Fiscal Year, Agency Name, Contract Office DODAAC, Solicitation #, Contract #, and Protester Name. A yellow circle '1' highlights the 'Actions' column for the first row. Below the table, a detailed view of a protest is shown, with a yellow circle '2' highlighting the 'GAO Decision' field, which is 'Denied'. Below that, a 'Complete' status is shown with a yellow circle '3' highlighting the 'Complete' button. The detailed view includes a 'Summary' section with a table of decision statistics and a 'General Information' section with a table of protest details.
